Claim 48. A method for controlling network devices via a home network, the network devices being connected to said home network via different protocol standards, comprising:

displaying generated icons of the network devices having a plurality of functions regarding a reproducing and/or recording of an audio/video signal, icons of a plurality of services provided by each device grouped according to the type of services provided, and menus including the functions which are operable with the associated network device or service; at least partially displaying the generated icons with a hierarchical structure so as to show a relationship of network connections of the network devices in the home network; receiving a selection of a network device or a service by a user selecting one of the displayed icons; selectively displaying the menu of a selected network device or service, the menu including the functions which are operable with the selected network device or service; receiving a selection of a function in the selectively displayed menu; and controlling the network device or service to execute the selected function based on a respective one of the protocol standards, wherein the execution of the selected function results in a data stream of an audio/video signal stored in a providing network device being sent from the providing network device to the selected network device or to a device capable of receiving said data stream via the home network.

viii. Claim 51 is amended to read:

Claim 51. The method according to claim 50, wherein at least partially displaying the icons with a hierarchical structure further includes organizing the icons according to the kind of subnetworks connected to said network.

ix. Claim 55 is amended to read:

Art Unit: 2173

Claim 55. A controller including a man-machine interface for controlling network devices via home network, the network devices being connected to said home network via different protocol standards, comprising:

means for displaying generated icons of the network devices having a plurality of functions regarding a reproducing and/or recording of an audio/video signal, icons of a plurality of services provided by each device according to the type of services provided, and menus including the functions which are operable with the associated network device; means for at least partially displaying the generated icons with a hierarchical structure so as to show a relationship of network connections of the network devices in the home network; means for receiving a selection of a network device or service by a user selecting one of the displayed icons; means for selectively displaying the menu of a selected network device or service, the menu including the functions which are operable with the selected network device or service; means for receiving a selection of a function in the selectively displayed menu; and means for controlling the network device or service to execute the selected function based on a respective one of the protocol standards, wherein the execution of the selected function results in a data stream of an audio/video signal stored in a providing network device being sent from the providing network device to the selected network device or to a device capable of receiving said data stream via the home network.

Art Unit: 2173

x. Claim 58 is amended to read:

Claim 58. The controller according to claim 57, wherein means for at least partially displaying the icons with a hierarchical structure further includes means for organizing the icons xi. Claim 62 is amended to read:

according to the kind of sub-networks connected to said network.

Claim 62. A computer readable storage medium having computer readable program code stored thereon for causing a computer to provide a man-machine interface for controlling network devices via a home network, the network devices being connected to said home network via different protocol standards, the computer readable medium comprising executable instructions that cause a computer to:

displaying generated icons of the network devices having a plurality of functions regarding a reproducing and/or recording of an audio/video signal, icons of a plurality of services provided by each device according to the type of services provided, and menus including the functions which are operable with the associated network device or service;

at least partially display the generated icons with a hierarchical structure so as to show a relationship of network connections of the network devices in the home network; receive a selection of a network device or service by a user selecting one of the displayed icons; selectively display the menu of a selected network device or service, the menu including the functions which are operable with the selected network device or service; receive a selection of a function in the selectively displayed menu; and control the network device or service to execute the selected function based on a respective one of the protocol standards, wherein the execution of the selected function results in a data stream of an audio/video signal stored in a providing network device being sent from the providing network device to the selected network device or to a device capable of receiving said data stream via the home network.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 48-62 are allowed.

6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention teaches controlling various kinds of home network devices via a man-machine interface. Each of the independent claims identifies the distinct feature of displaying generated icons of the network devices having a plurality of functions regarding a reproducing and/or recording of an audio/video signal, icons of a plurality of services provided by each device grouped according to the type of services provided, and menus including the functions which are operable with the associated network device or service. The closest prior art, Microsoft® Windows (hereinafter "Windows"), copyright 1998 (Screenshot 1) and Wendorf et al. U.S. Patent 7,257,821 (hereinafter "Wendorf") teach an interface that displays a hierarchical view of home devices connected to a home network. In the case of the Windows reference, Windows teaches generating icons of the network devices having a plurality of functions regarding a reproducing and/or recording of an audio/video signal and menus including the functions which are operable with the associated network devices (Screenshot 2 shows the display of a plurality of icons representing devices that are connected and available to the computer network, for example, an Audio CD player that is capable of reproducing/playing audio CDs); at least partially displaying the generated icons with a hierarchical structure so as to show a relationship of network connections of the network devices in the network (the icons representing the devices are shown in a hierarchical tree display in Screenshot 2; each of the devices have a menu of available functions associated with it, as shown in Screenshot 3, that can be shown by right-clicking on the device icon); receiving a selection of a network device by a user selecting one of the displayed icons (for example, selection of the Audio CD device icon, as shown in Screenshots 3 and 4); selectively displaying the menu of a selected network device, the menu including the functions which are operable with the selected network device (a menu of available functions such as "Play" are displayed upon user selection via right-clicking the corresponding device icon, as shown in Screenshots 3 and 4); receiving a selection of a function in the selectively displayed menu (users can select any of the functions displayed in the menu shown in Screenshot 3, such as the "Play" function); and controlling the network device to execute the selected function (the network device, i.e. CD player will execute the function of the playing the CD upon selection of the "Play" function in the menu shown in Screenshot 3), wherein the execution of the selected function results in a data stream of an audio/video signal stored in a providing network device being sent from the providing network device to the selected network device via the network (upon user selection of the "Play" function, the selected network device of the Audio CD player will play the data stream, i.e. a particular track selected on the providing network device, i.e. the computer, as shown in Screenshots 6-8). In the case of the Wendorf reference, Wendorf teaches controlling home devices connected to a home network based on a respective one of different protocol standards (the communication system of the in-home network operates the in-home devices using predetermined home protocols) (Wendorf: column 1: lines 40-49), and wherein execution of the selected function results in a data stream of an audio/video signal stored in a providing network device being sent from the providing network device to the selected network device via the home network (a user can program his home VCR from his remote office PC, i.e. data signals are sent from the user's office to the user's home network) (Wendorf: column 1, lines 12-17). The prior art fails to teach displaying icons generated for all the services provided by a network device, grouped according to the type of services provided, in addition to displaying icons generated to represent the network devices themselves and menus associated with the device or service. Thus, the prior art fails to anticipate or render the above limitations obvious.

Application/Control Number: 09/901,275

7. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
